Dixon, IL – The Illinois Department of Transportation announces today that construction work is resuming on the US 67 Centennial Bridge over the Mississippi River between Rock Island and Davenport. Interstate Maintenance is closing a lane on the northbound side of the bridge so they can clean the northbound half of the structure. The washing will be completed this week.

On Monday, June 1, 2015, traffic will be switched to the northbound half of the structure with one lane in each direction and the southbound half of the bridge will be closed. General Constructors Inc. of the Quad Cities will resume work to make structural repairs to the bridge. Traffic is being removed from the southbound half of the bridge so the contractor can work under those lanes of the structure to make repairs to beam connections.

Motorists should expect delays due to the lane closures and plan trips accordingly. Work to complete the $3.35 million contract will continue for several months to make structural repairs to the bridge. The work is scheduled to be completed with at least one lane of traffic in each direction open at all times.

Please slow down and use extreme caution while driving through all work zones.
